At Kaboura Events we recognise that some clients require more formal learning objectives to underpin their event.

Whether it's focusing on team development, motivating staff, leadership or people management, focused training activities can be built into our events to provide your team with an enhanced learning experience that is innovative and fun.

What's involved?

Our facilitators are specialists in the field of team development and are very much focused on winning a commitment to behavioural change that will have lasting impact on individual and organisational performance.

They achieve this by creating a safe learning environment where all participants are challenged to review their own and their peers' performance.

Where appropriate, they will work with you to identify clear learning outcomes for your event or help to develop your own organisation's key messages.

In addition, we have successfully designed and developed a number of bespoke events for clients looking to provide teams with activities that deliver a balance of more formal learning with innovative and fun activities.

Whether your team is looking to incorporate team development theories and concepts or needing to use specific profiling tools, our facilitators are available to work with you to design an event that meets your specific needs and really hits the mark.

Whether it's an hour long training session or a week long course, Kaboura Training can provide you with innovative ideas and materials to ensure that you get the most from your training initiatives and, where appropriate, incorporate your organisation's specific training and development needs.
